It would be quite fair to call Aubel Enterforce RF (Eloy x Guard x Atlantic) an out of the ordinary bull. This is the first time that K.I. Samen has tested a bull from the Lady family, the maternal line of Enterforce RF. With bulls such as Guard and Atlantic in its pedigree, this line brings an alternative bloodline to the mix, especially for the red-and-white population. Through his sire Eloy, Enterforce RF carries the red factor, and combined with correct legs and high protein percentages this makes him an interesting proposition both for the black-and-white and red-and-white segments.

The traits above - red factor carrier, high protein and correct legs - are also found in Eloy RF, the sire of Enterforce RF. Eloy was already used as a bull sire when he was young and his first daughters have calved in the meantime. In addition to correct legs, Eloy passes on average stature and good udders. This bull also improves the components and has good health traits.

High protein and good legs also feature in the maternal line of Enterforce RF, which is originally the Esmeralda line. Lady 21, the dam of Enterforce RF, has completed five lactations and achieved lifetime production of 60,000 kg of milk to date averaging 3.92% protein. This Guard daughter, who rates 89 points for her strong...
