Eppie 2 is, without any doubt, the most stylishly and well build FH (Fries Holland) bull we have ever had at our AI station. Breeding farm Hoekman from Haskerhorne keeps their herd in a free stall barn. The herd is only fed with grass silage and are kept with a minimum of costs. Mr. Hoekman says: "The cows should produce the farmers income with just that what the land provides. Purchasing feed always costs money, so we try to prevent that."

The Emma line has been present prominently at the Hoekman farm for a long time now. Eppie 2's dam reached to number 541 already. Despite the slightly longer first production list of Emma 541 their fertility is anchored in the family, which can also be seen at granddam Emma 530.

Eppie 2's sire Dorus 14 is a son of Jupiter 128, of which insiders still speak with deep respect. High productive cows who perform easily on the grass silage rations given in the Dutch province of Friesland. Eppie 2 is a bull of which we expect that he will give a new and fresh impulse to the FH breeding, not just in the Netherlands but worldwide!
