Gupworthy Onzlo is the first English Longhorn bull to become available in the Netherlands. K.I. SAMEN is proud to offer a Longhorn bull bred in England as Bakewell, one of the founding fathers of selective cattle breeding, started with the Longhorn breed.

The English national Longhorn Show was held as part of the Royal Three Counties Show in 2016. Gupworthy Onzlo was crowned champion bull and was reserve breed champion second to a wonderful female. Onzlo was also awarded the all-round champion title at the Royal Welsh Show in 2016. English Longhorns are distinguished by their long, downward curving horns.

Calves by Onzlo are most likely to be born with a very light weight. They will also probably have a white patch alone the spine and brown/red mottling on the face and hindquarters.
