Taco van de Plashoeve is the second bull from the Tax line to start a career in AI. The first bull, who was active at a different AI organisation, failed to produce semen, but fortunately Taco has no problems in that area. Taco's dam, Tax 26, has already produced six calves and only had a c-section when she was a heifer. All the other calves were natural births, including Taco.

His sire Altes scores well for ease of birth and is therefore a great choice as a sire. In terms of calving ease, without exception all the bulls bred on the Van de Plashoeve farm have good results. Many years of selecting their cows for natural births have resulted in maternal calving ease being the rule rather than the exception.

Taco van de Plashoeve ranks 4 out of 5 stars, because he is the first bull from a new pedigree, but our hopes and expectations are high.
