Wilskracht Mohawk Red PP is a homozygous polled Mo PP son out of Warsi 1580, who completed her first lactation record with an impressive lactation value of 115. This was achieved through high milk production combined with outstanding components, including nearly 4% protein. Granddam Warsi 1311 also demonstrates excellent production figures, with almost 4% protein.

In short, Mohawk Red PP is a bull that has it all: polled genetics, outstanding components, strong secondary traits, and excellent conformation.
